

An Introduction to Ethnobotany

Edible, Medicinal, & Utility Uses for Wild Plants & Trees

Learn to make acorn or buckeye nut flour, how to purify water using an oak tree, and several ancient cooking techniques that are both interesting and sure to come in useful during your next camping trip. Whether you're looking to improve your garden, integrate more wild foods in your diet, or you're encouraging your kids to memorize plants instead of Pokémon, you won't want to miss this unique, informative event! Come taste acorn bread!

After many years documenting alongside mushroom and lichen experts, Native American traditional life skills teachers, wilderness survival instructors, and other specialists, Nevada, IA native, author and founder of Wild Willpower, Alex Wilson returns to Iowa to bring her studies back to the people of her home state.

Come join us

Thursday, Oct. 11 2018

7:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Kirkendall Public Library

Ankeny's Library

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457

Wild Plant Uses (ethnobotany)
Oct. 11, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.
www.WildWillpower.org
415-798-7457